

Refugee bio

Neil Arya is a family physician, founder Director of the Kitchener/Waterloo Refugee Health Clinic and a Fellow at the Balsillie School for International Affairs. He has lectured, written and participated in research on refugee health issues, Peace through Health and Global Health around the world. He is President of PEGASUS Institute, has edited four books, sits on several editorial boards and is on the organizing committee of the North American Refugee Health Conference. Dr. Arya was founding Director of the Global Health Office at Western University (2009-2013) and Scholar in Residence and Fellow at the International Migration Research Centre at Wilfrid Laurier University (2018-2020). He has been recognized by the community, colleagues and academics including with the College of Family Physicians of Canada Geeta Gupta Award for Equity and Diversity (2009), DLitt. (Honorary) Wilfrid Laurier University and mid-Career Award in International Health from the American Public Health Association (2011) and the College of Family Physicians Canada (CFPC) Award of Excellence (2013).